John Ogrodnick, Vaclav Nedomansky, Reed Larson and Glenn Hicks scored for the Red Wings.

The Kings scored 10 of their goals after starting Detroit goaltender Gilles Gilbert suffered a hip injury following a scramble in front of the Red Wings' net. He was taken to hospital for x-rays. Gilbert was replaced by Larry Lozinskki.

The Kings were making their first home appearance since returning from a sixgame road trip, which ended with a 7-2 loss at Philadelphia Sunday night. In the only other game played Tuesday, Vancouver Canucks needed a late score from Darcy Rota to lift themselves into a 2-2 tie with Toronto Maple Leafs. While Bossy was drawing most of the attention from Vail, linemate Bryan Trottier scored twice and goaltender Glenn Resch blanked Flames' shooters for his third shutout of the year, tops in the league. Bossy had just four shots on goaltender Rejean Lemelin in his pursuit of the great Montreal Canadiens rightwinger's magic total.

The teams battled scoreless for more than 50 minutes before Butch Goring ended the stalemate at 5:24 of the third Then Trottier scored twice, bringing his career points total to 600, and Bob Bourne and Bob Nystrom rounded out the Islanders to move the defending Stanley Cup champions five points in front of runner-up St. Louis Blues in the NHL's overall standings.
