Off The Top: Pisces individuals, in most cases, would rather give than receive -- but when obviously being taken advantage of, the native will rebel with a vengeance. Taurus persons can be placid, generous, willing to reserve judgment -- but the native can also be bull-headed, stubborn, ready to fight when cause is considered "right." Gemini natives, although restless, quixotic, temperamental, charming, can also be counted on to meet deadlines when pressure is on, when crisis exists. It is true -- you can rely on Gemini!

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You'll have reason to celebrate, long-standing task will be completed. Burden is removed, you'll have greater freedom, love will replace fears, doubts, suspicions. Libra and another Aries play significant roles. TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Light is shed where previously there was darkness. You get proverbial "second chance" -- applies especially where love is concerned. Focus on independence, direct approach, inventiveness.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Emphasis on teaching, learning, intuition, career advancement. Reunion with member is featured -- "old flame" also plays major role. Individual who aided in recent problem is ready to CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Focus on greater freedom: movement, trips, visits, ability to reach beyond previous limitations. You gain added recognition, love replaces dismay, greater audience awaits your efforts.

Pass Pass Opening lead: Six of ♡.

If we were asked to propose a motto for bridge players, it would probably be: "Pessimism Pays!" Those guys you see walking around wearing a belt and suspenders can afford to do so because of their winnings at the bridge table.

We like North's decision to raise to two spades at his second turn. It was far preferable to either rebidding two diamonds or one no trump, and it certainly made South's life easy. West led a heart and declarer captured the king with the ace. He foresaw no problem, so he started out by drawing two rounds of trumps. West's discard was something of a disappointment. Now he tried to set up his diamonds. Although West could have won the second diamond and given his partner a ruff, he saw that his side would take only three tricks, except in the unlikely event his partner had the ace of clubs. Instead, he shrewdly held up the ace until the third round, and the contract was doomed. After cashing the queen of hearts, West shifted to a club. Declarer entered dummy with the trump and led a winning diamond. but East ruffed and declarer still had to lose two clubs for down one. Had declarer considered the possibility of a 4-1 trump break, he could have brought home the contract if East was the defender with the four trumps. After winning the ace of hearts, declarer should cash just one high trump from hand before driving out the ace of diamonds. It does not help West to give East a ruff. Best defense is to hold up the ace of diamonds until the bitter end, cash a heart, then shift to a club. Declarer counters by winning the ace of clubs, crossing to the table with a trump and leading a winning diamond. East must ruff. Declarer overruffs, gets back to the board with a trump while drawing East's last fang, and cashes a good diamond for the fulfilling trick.
