CARBONNEAU KEY

Habs' checking thwarts Whalers

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — If the Montreal Canadiens think their dogged, dump-and-chase style of play is unsettling to the Hartford Whalers, they're absolutely right.

If the Whalers weren't wearing helmets, they would probably be pulling their hair out. The Canadiens have limited them to two goals in their past two games and jumped to a 2-1 advantage in their best-of-seven Adams Division final

If the Whalers are to have a chance in the fourth game of the series tonight at the Hartford Civic Centre, they must find a way to shake free from the forechecking of Guy Carbonneau.

"It's frustrating," Whalers' captain Ron Francis said. "But we have to go out and do something about it.

Francis, Hartford's No. 1 centre, has been held scoreless in the series. Linemates John Anderson and Kevin Dineen have also been shut down the past two games, mostly by Montreal's checking line of Carbonneau, Bob Gainey and Chris

The Canadiens have scored first in each of their victories, enabling them to fall back into a defensive

"I think playing like we have been in the first period of these games is getting on their nerves," offered Canadiens' coach Jean Per-

For the first time since March 1, the Whalers have lost two straight games and are in danger of elimination from the Stanley Cup playoffs.

But coach Jack Evans, whose 58th birthday was dampened by the loss in Monday night's game, said he wasn't ready to panic.

"We've only lost five of our last 26 games, so I don't think we'll be making any drastic changes," he

The Whalers also said team doctors had examined goalie Mike Liut, who pulled himself out of Monday night's game in the first period because of a bruised right knee. Liut is expected to play to-

CAPITALS IN CONTROL

Next game critical for upstart Rangers

NEW YORK (AP) - No doubt about it, the New York Rangers have been impressed by the Washington Capitals so far in their National Hockey League playoff se-

"When you talk about speed, you want to talk about team speed and Washington has more team speed than Philadelphia," New York's Kelly Miller said.

The Rangers knocked off the highly regarded Flyers in five games in the first round of their Patrick Division playoffs. Now they face just as formidable a task - beating the Capitals in the division final.

That job was made even tougher as a result of Monday night's 6-3 loss at home that put the Rangers behind 2-1 in the best-of-seven series with Game 4 in New York to-

"There's no question the next game is critical," Rangers coach Ted Sator said. "Our backs are to the wall.'

The Rangers were embarrassed 8-1 Saturday night at the Capital Centre prior to Monday night's We'll have to be a nickel better in every facet of our game," Sator added. "We do not want to go to Washington down two games with the next one on their home ice."

Bobby Carpenter and John Barrett were the latest Washington heroes against the Rangers, scoring two goals each in Monday night's contest. But perhaps the nicest surprise for the Capitals has been the play of goaltender Pete Peeters, who beat the Rangers for the second time in three playoff games. During the season, Peeters was winless in four games against the Rangers and Washington coach Bryan Murray was criticized for not going with Al Jensen against New York in the post-season games, especially after Peeters lost the opener 4-3 in overtime.

"I guess that settles the question about Pete Peeters playing against the Rangers," Murray said, chiding the media after Monday night's victory at Madison Square Garden.

Peeters not only has played well against the New Yorkers, but was also a strong performer in the Capitals' three-game sweep of the New York Islanders in the first round. Statistically he is the top goaltender in the playoffs.

The Capitals' defence as a whole merits much of the credit for their lead in this series. Not only have they been getting back to stop the Rangers from scoring goals, they also have been scoring goals themselves. Barrett's contributions Monday night continued a trend by Washington's offensive-minded defencemen.

"We're playing confidently," Peeters said. "Barrett and (Greg) Smith are giving us a lot of muscle at the blue line".

Active year planned in local orienteering

In its 10th season, the Prince George Orienteering Club is plan-"an incredibly busy year," president Renate Dorschner announced Tuesday.

In addition to its accustomed weekend activities, the club is planning Wednesday night events.

Perhaps the biggest competition of the local season will be the club's first competition at Crooked River Provincial Park, which is north of town near Bear Lake. The initial Crooked River event is scheduled for June 15.

Dorschner said the club has a new map of the area in five colors, making it easier to read.

"We're quite pleased with that one (map)," said Dorschner, who revealed the special orienteering map cost $900 to prepare.

The first competition of the season is Sunday, starting from 8215 Prince Edward Cres. in College Heights at 10:30 a.m. For more information, call Kevin Hill-Tout at

There's a clinic for beginners May 3 at Moore's Meadow Elementary School. The clinic begins at 9 a.m. and there's a competition at 1:30 p.m The local club includes Karen

Peterson, who won the master women's title at the 1984 Canadian championships and was third last

Orienteering is a combination of cross-country running and navigation, with strategy vying with running ability for importance.

Westwood to final

Westwood Pub downed the Indian Friendship Centre 79-61 Tuesday to advance to the final of the Prince George men's B basketball playoffs.

Westwood, the defending playoff champion and league winner this season, meets the Fort St. James Wolves at 8 p.m. Thursday at

Sports

Prince George Secondary School in the A-B final of the double-knockout tournament.

A victory by the Wolves would give them the title, but if Westwood wins, a second game will be played Tuesday.

Rob Klassen led Westwood with 20 points against the Friendship Centre and Dana Gorbahn added 11 for the winners, who led 37-24 at John Olson replied with 20 and Lance Bulmer 19 for Indian Frienship Centre.

Moms honored

NEW YORK (AP) - Golfer Nancy Lopez and track star Valerie Brisco-Hooks, an Olympic gold medal winner, were among those named Tuesday as winners of the 1986 Outstanding Mother's Award. They were chosen for the eighth annual award by the National Mother's Day Committee for the examples they have set in combining career and parenting.

Shawn to fight

TORONTO (CP) - Toronto welterweight boxer Shawn O'Sullivan will put his unbeaten pro record on the line June 8 against 22-year-old Simon Brown of Washington, D.C., in a scheduled 10-rounder.

O'Sullivan has an 11-0 record, including eight knockouts. Brown, ranked 12th by the World Boxing Council and No. 5 by The Ring magazine, is 22-1 with 16 knockouts. His only loss was to Marlon Starling (ranked No. 5 by the WBC and No. 4 by Ring) in November,

The bout will be held at the 8,000seat Coliseaum at Exhibition Place and televised by NBC. However, it will be blacked out in Toronto.

Hiltons wait to learn fate

MONTREAL (CP) — The sentencing of Alex Hilton, former Canadian middleweight boxing champion, on charges arising from a shooting incident last year was postponed Tuesday until May 7.

Judge Andre Duranleau of sessions court agreed to postpone the sentencing on condition that Hilton, who has had a series of alcohol-related problems with the law, be confined until then in a rehabilitation centre for alcoholics. Hilton, 21, pleaded guilty in December to illegal possession of a firearm, damaging private property and assaulting a hotel security employee in the Nov. 22 incident in which he fired a bullet through a window of the downtown Sheraton Centre hotel.

Hilton, the second-oldest of Montreal's four fighting Hilton brothers, was stripped of his Canadian middleweight boxing championship in January, 1985. Meanwhile, a preliminary hearing for his brother, Dave Jr., 22, on a charge of illegal possession of a firearm was postponed Tuesday until May 8.
