The bidding: North East South West 1 ♦ 1 ± 3 NT Pass Pass 2 4 Pass Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♡ reading for bridge players—it contains much sage advice. For instance, consider this morsel of wisdom: "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's." Had West but followed that dictum, we would have had nothing _ to write about.

West was unnecessarily cautious in the bidding. Once his partner raise spades, West should probably have competed with four spades. He was looking at seven or eight playing tricks in his own hand, East-West vulnerable. North and his partner had raised. As the cards lie, four spades has a shot if the defense makes the slightest slip.

West compounded his timidity in the bidding with a poor choice of opening lead. Reluctant to present declarer with a spade trick that he might not be able to make on his own. West chose to lead the jack of hearts. Declarer played low from dummy, East signalled encouragement with the eight and declarer held up the ace. There was still time to switch to a spade, but West thought he had struck gold.

Declarer won the heart continuation with the ace and led a club to the table's king. A diamond to the ten was allowed to win, and declarer crossed back to the ace of clubs to repeat the diamond finesse. When that brought the ace from West, all was well. Declarer scooped up six The Bible should be compulsory club tricks, two diamond tricks and the ace of hearts.

Obviously, the contract goes down with a spade lead. Declarer does get a spade trick, but that gives him only eight tricks in toto.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

by Sydney Omarr

Friday, July 15, 1988 Since You Asked Me: Gemini persons have many interests, can scatter their forces, often pursue more than one career simultaneously. Actors Tony Curtis and Vincent Price are but two examples. Price, a staunch friend of astrology, is not only a skilled thespian but also a major art criticcollector, author and gourmet cook. Curtis, dynamic leading man, is also a talented painter. Clint Eastwood, big box-office motion-picture star, is a Gemini also interested in politics and who became mayor of his community. Gemini -- sign of the twin careers.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You discover method of untangling red tape. Path is cleared for creative endeavors. Focus on travel, variety, sensuality, popularity. Young person "confesses" strong attraction to you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Study

Aries message for valuable hint. Check small print, be wary of one who promises something for nothing. You'll be offered contract or agreement -don't jump at initial projection. Remain GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Conflict exists between business or career opportunity and home obligations. Stress versatility, imagination, combined with diplomacy. You'll actually get more money than originally planned. CANCER (June 21-July 22): Someone attempts to disparage your efforts, requests. Position is strong, you'll recoup loss, you'll also maneuver to financial advantage. Intuition contin-ues to be on target. Pisces involved. tic situation, financial status of one close to you. Be positive concerning legal rights, permissions. Original answer or reference could be erroneous. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): What glitters may not be gold -- someone wants something for nothing, and you could be prime target. Emphasis on legal documents, public relations, partnership, marital status. Gemini in-PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Lowkey approach brings desired results. tlight on employment, dependents, health report. Significant changes occur on home front -- there is improvement,
