Class a film-making collaboration

REGINA (CP) — Ever wonder where the next hot-shot Canadian movie director is coming from?

Try Luther College High School, where a new motion picture industry course signals a unique collaboration between the school, the federal and provincial governments, and Canada's film industry.

Careers in Film, Television and New Media is a series of Grade 10, 11 and 12 credit courses. The three-year project has two aims — either to encourage students to go on to post-secondary studies or give them contacts that might lead to actual jobs.

"We're kind of planting a seed with these students," said instructor Jay Willimott. "If they go directly into the industry, that's wonderful but if they go to film school, that's wonderful, too."

Among the first graduates is Matthew O'Donnell, 18, who co-directed a five-minute gangster satire and later landed a temporary production job with a local film company.

"I got to talk with various producers and directors and really learned a lot," said O'Donnell, who is thinking about film school.

Kevin DeWalt, the chief executive officer of Minds Eye Pictures and the creator of the Luther program, said there's a critical labour shortage in the Saskatchewan film and video industry that could grow to 1,000 jobs in the next few years.

Producers would much rather hire crews locally, he said.

Cox: Woman on the run.

Life in fast lane for Deborah Cox

TORONTO (CP) — Deborah Cox is a woman on the run.

It's not that Canada's one-and-only R&B diva is in trouble — far from it. But Cox's second album, One Wish, has just hit stores and with it has come a punishing schedule of promotion and performances, hurdles Cox has to jump to get the word out about her new disc.

"It is a little intense," Cox said recently, minutes after arriving for a whirlwind publicity tour in her home town.

That's putting it mildly.

The 25-year-old singer's day begins at 5 a.m. in New York, leaving just enough time to make it to a flight that will land her in Toronto four hours later.

A long black stretch limo waits for Cox outside the terminal and though it might be a symbol of wealth and luxury, today it's nothing more than a portable office where Cox and representatives from her record label can plan and execute the day's business.

And business is good. The first single from One Wish, Nobody's Supposed to be Here, has just reached No. 2 on Billboard magazine's prestigious U.S. top 100 singles chart.

It makes the brutal schedule worthwhile says Cox, looking surprisingly fresh despite the early hour. But as happy as she is with success, Cox says she's acutely aware what it means to be the first Canadian R&B singer with star stature.

"Being the only black Canadian female to have this kind of success I think has really made a lot of black Canadian women feel very proud. I understand the position that I'm in now, I am a role model and people are watching everything I do and I don't mind taking on that responsibility."

SHOWBIZ IN BRIEF

Just for the kids

REGINA (CP) — Canadian actors Margot Kidder and Stephen Ouimette lend their voices to computer-animated characters in the second season of The Maximum Dimension, a half-hour children's series that unveils the mysteries of mathematics and logic.

The show returns for 15 episodes to TVOntario and the Saskatchewan Communications Network in January.

The Maximum Dimension, filmed in Regina, is a co-production of Owl/SDA Productions and Heartland Motion Pictures.

Curfew stays

NEW YORK (AP) — Strawberry Fields may be forever, but a vigil to John Lennon's memory has a curfew.

The city parks department says it has refused a request by his fans to extend a 1 a.m. Central Park curfew next month on the 18th anniversary of Lennon's murder.

Fans gather annually on Dec. 8 for a vigil in a section of the park called Strawberry Fields to remember the 1980 slaying of Lennon by a deranged fan outside the nearby Dakota apartment building.

Theatre lives on

NEW YORK (AP) — Ian McKellen can offer a ready rebuttal to the recurring obituaries written about the theatre.

"Theatre will never die, because what is special about theatre as a form of storytelling is that it's on a human scale," says the 59-year-old actor best known for his stage performances.

"It's not huge images on a massive screen, and images of people who are dead, or who certainly are not in the room with you. Actors on a stage ARE THERE. You're in the same space. That's why I don't like when the spaces get too big and the voices are coming through microphones."
