

Jacqueline Gillett of Kelly Road keeps a close watch on Stacey Wagner of PGSS in senior girls basketball action last Friday. PGSS won easily, 58-29. To save travel costs, the teams played the first game of the Nechako Valley preseason tournament at PGSS. The Polarettes lost to Nechako Valley in the final in a close game, 47-45. Banff films in Prince George

The Banff Festival of Mountain Films will be in Prince George this week with its 'Best of the Festival' tour.

The films include rock and alpine climbing, mountaineering, jumping and kayaking in fast-paced action that is touring across Canada, Japan and the United States. The films that will be showing are the top productions out of nearly 100 entries at the 19th annual event. Over 5,000 people attend the festival each year.

The films can be seen at 6 p.m. in Vanier Hall on December 4.

O'Grady captures pre-season tourney

College Park, Prince George, Westside, and Nechako Valley decided not to come, but O'Grady enjoyed being the life of the party anyway.

The host Totems walked away from the pre-season senior boys tournament with the title in the basketball season's first major event. O'Grady downed the D.P. Todd Trojans 93-76 to take top honours.

The two other teams in the four-team event, Duchess Park and Kelly Road, squared off in the third-place game. The Condors crushed the Road-runners by 14 points, 65-51 to finish third.
