

ALLEGED CRACK-SMOKING MAYOR TO BATTLE HULK HOGAN

Garett Svensen,
Editor-in-Chief.

Mayor Rob Ford, who may or may not have smoked crack cocaine on tape, is to arm-wrestle WWF legend Hulk Hogan. Ford, who was the topic of a recent controversial story involving the sale of a video recording that pupodedly showed mayor Ford smoking crack cocaine, will be attending the Toronto Fan Expo to battle the Hulkster in a one-on-one arm wrestling showdown.

Ford will be locking sweaty, muscular arms with legend Hulk Hogan in a glorious photo op, possibly to help people forget that he was against funding AIDS prevention, saying, "if you are not doing needles and you are not gay, you couldn't get AIDS." Ignoring and dismissing the growing number of women contracting the debilitating illness as "sleeping with bisexuals."

When asked for comment, Mayor Ford, who once callously stated that cyclists are at fault if they are killed in road accidents, told the Toronto Sun "Ooooh Yeaaaaaaah!"

POT-SMOKING LIBERAL RUNNING THE PARTY

Garett Svensen,
Editor-in-Chief.

Justin Trudeau has recently admitted to smoking marijuana since becoming an MP. Trudeau has made waves recently with a "remakably unambiguous...affirmation of seemingly categorical support for the legalization of marijuana." As reported by Kady O'Malley for CBC News.

Trudeau became a Liberal MP in 2008. He ran for the leadership of the Liberal party in the wake of the Liberal's poor performance during the 2011 federal election, winning it in April of this year with 80% of the votes. In recent tweets and interviews, he has admitted to smoking marijuana multiple times, at least once since becoming an MP.

Trudeau's admission comes hot on the heels of a majority vote by the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police to reform drug laws. Under their reccomendation, possession of less than 30 grams of marijuana would become a ticketable offense. The federal government, however, has no plans to implement the reccomendation.

ONLINE OPT-OUT

Garett Svensen,
Editor-in-Chief.

Students with extra Health and Dental coverage looking to opt-out of the Health and Dental program at CNC can do so online until September 27th.

Extra coverage is any extended health plan, including work benefits, other student group (Like NUGSS) benefits, as well as band coverage and some government coverage. Basic MSP (CareCard) is not extended coverage and does not allow you to opt out.

After paying your fees, including the mandatory Health and Dental fee, go online to greenshield.ca/studentcentre, and select College of New Caledonia Students' Union (CAL). From the GSC Studentcentre page that comes up, navigate to the "What you need" tab, then "Opt-Out." From there it's a matter of entering your student number, your email address and proof of coverage information.

Refund cheques will be available in the Students' Union office starting in early November. The Students' Union has a dedicated Online Opt-Out Kiosk available for everyone to use when the office is open.

Garett Svensen,
Editor-in-Chief

VOLUNTEERS WANTED

Garett Svensen,
Editor-in-Chief.

There are 5 volunteers wanted for the Teaching and Learning Conference on August 29th. The conference runs from 8am-5pm and volunteers receive a free lunch and t-shirt.

Email info@cncsu.ca for more information or to sign up.

Taren Johnson,
Web Manager