ON CNC 2014 BLACK HISTORY MONTH CELEBRATION

The month of February came and passed with the celebration of the annual Black History Month at the College of New Caledonia with significant contributions from the Prince George Africa Heritage Society 17th. George Kaweesi, a CNC instructor and Black History Month organizer, explains that "Black History Month celebrates the diverse roots of the nation and country we call Canada. These events remind everyone that our community is made up of those from near and far and they share a common goal of trying to make it better."

For this year's event, the likes of Kenechukwu Obi and Bah Ibrahim A., International Student Leaders, joined the organizing committee with
