

Like so many times in the history of political change, the fight is beginning with young adults who refuse to be silenced, gaining voice through tragedy. Companies have publicly ended support of the NRA and other gun lobbyists. 17 year olds have garnered international support and celebrity endorsement with protest and activism. This a classic example of the power that comes from turning moments of silence, in to moments of action.

Of all children aged 0 to 14 killed by guns in developed countries...

87% are US children

SOURCE: The Journal of TRAUMA
Injury, Infection, and Critical Care

Vox