

HEY DUDES- EDITORIAL

With orientations and the first month of school wrapping up, I hope we've all settled in to our new classes, and for some, a new school. Though I am here to provide you with words of encouragement, I won't lie to you— it is going to be stressful. There will be tears, there will be sweat, there may even be blood. Hopefully not blood though? You might be doing something wrong if there is blood. All that being said, I'm freakin' excited. Call me a nerd, but school can be so much fun. My article this week is all about how to survive this semester, so give it a read if you already find yourself drowning in bills, reading assignments, work, and all the other lovely overwhelming things that come with life. Though I am no professional, I am experienced with the struggles of first year. I send all of the luck and strength to you guys.

Raegan Cote
News Editor

College of New Caledonia
Students' Union

Leila Depenau
Executive Director

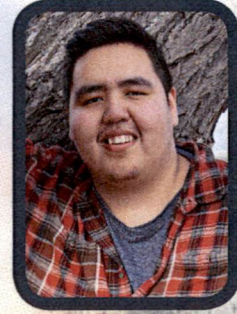

Amy Barry
Organizer

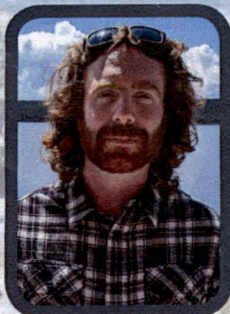

Rebecca Clark-Gray
Office &
Services Coordinator

Carman Hill
Quesnel Office &
Services Coordinator

Damon Robinson
Communications
Officer

Ian Petrie
Trades Rep.

Shaun Edwards
Health and Science Rep.

Navjot Singh Brar
Business &
Technology Rep.

Brandon Jack
Indigenous Rep.

Brittany Idiens
Quesnel Rep.